

TIPS FOR ENGAGING IN AN IPO COMMITTEE

New to an IPO Committee and not sure how to get involved? Here are some practical tips for making the most of the experience.

➔ Join a Committee Meeting

Most committees hold monthly online meetings featuring discussions, educational presentations, and networking. Attend a meeting — and participate! Turn your camera on when you do: it helps put a face to a name and signals to committee leaders that you're engaged and ready to contribute.

➔ Introduce Yourself

Share your name, practice area, and interests so fellow members can get to know you and consider you for upcoming projects. Make sure your IPO Connect profile is up to date as well.

➔ Start Discussion in IPO Connect

Have you come across new legislation, regulations, or court decisions worth discussing? Or do you have a practice question you'd like outside perspective on? Share it with your committee to start a conversation or get answers.

➔ Join a Subcommittee

Larger committees often form subcommittees to pursue multiple projects simultaneously. Joining one is a great way to get hands-on and contribute meaningfully.

➔ Help Draft Comments or Letters

Committees regularly respond to requests for comment on proposed U.S. and international regulations. Join the drafting subgroup to contribute your expertise to responses that go before IPO leadership for approval.

➔ Propose a Webinar or Educational Session

Have a topic you think deserves a wider IPO audience? Consider proposing an IP Chat Channel webinar or a session for the Annual Meeting. Reach out to meetings@ipo.org to learn more.

➔ Attend In-Person Events

The IPOwners Spring Summit (March) and European Practice Committee Conference (June) are excellent opportunities to deepen connections in person. Visit the full Events Calendar for details.
